FINE AMNESTY

Fine Amnesty in February

It's time to pull out that long overdue library book, because February is Fine Amnesty Month. Regardless of how overdue an item is, all Public Libraries In Jefferson County will waive all overdue fees, clearing the account for checkout of new materials.

Fine forgiveness does not apply to fees charged for lost materials, however.

The goal of this amnesty program is to get patrons back into the library and using it again.

We want library materials back and we want patrons to be able to use the library.

MEMORY

The Jefferson County Memorial Project (JCMP)- Iron-dale Committee held a soil collection ceremony on Saturday, November 30, 2019 at Revelation Church Ministries. The ceremony was a time to join together and begin the collective remembering of Mr. William Wardley, a man lynched on the outskirts of Irondale in December 1896.

In the coming months the library will partner with the JCMP-Irondale Committee for programs relating to memory.

- Beginning February 11, Memory boxes created by artist Douglas Baulos will be on display in the library display case.
- March 12 at 5:30 (registration required) artist and UAB associate professor, Douglas Baulos will lead a Memory Box workshop
- More programs to be announced

Why memory?

Dr. Desireé R Melonas, Assistant Professor of Political Science, Birmingham-Southern College was among the speakers at the Soil Collection Ceremony in November. In her remarks she states "We must ask: what—in the forgetting, in the intentional blanketing over of this very painful, protracted, violent past—are we wishing to say about ourselves? What about our identities are problematically kept intact by blurring out this history? And, importantly, what kind individuals might we become if we bear witness to it and all of its pain?"
