

Community Room Policy

The primary purpose of the Library Community Room is to serve the needs of Library-sponsored programs and services, and such functions will always have scheduling priority. After the Library, priority for use of the room will be given to the Friends of the Library, the City of Irondale and Irondale community groups and organizations whose goals are civic, educational and cultural. The Community Room may not be used for social gatherings, parties, banquets, wedding receptions, baby showers, etc.

Use of the room by commercial groups can only be for meetings or training and may not be used to sell or promote their business or products. Commercial groups must pay a room reservation fee (detailed on the application).

Each application will be reviewed, and the Library Board and Library Director reserve the right to refuse a reservation to any individual or group who fails to meet these guidelines.

The Library Board and Library Director reserve the right to withdraw a previously approved Community Room reservation at any time with or without prior notice. If the Board/Director withdraws a previously approved Community Room reservation, any fees already paid will be returned.

Meetings may be held in the Library's Community Room facilities between the following hours on days the Library is open to the public.

- Reservations are available for up to 8 hours in one day on Monday-Thursday:
 - Mondays & Thursday - 9:30am-6:30pm
 - Tuesdays & Wednesdays - 9:30am-5:30pm
- Reservations are available for up to 7 hours on Fridays and 5 hours on Saturdays:
 - Fridays -9:30am-4:30pm
 - Saturdays - 10:30-3:30pm

Rules and Regulations for Community Room Usage

- Community Room Reservations
 - All requests for use of the Community Room must be made through the Library by completing the online registration form found on the Library's website. If you need assistance filling out the application, a Library staff member can assist you.
 - Reservations are booked on a first-come, first-served basis according to the date the Library receives the application. There are no same-day reservations.

- Applicants must have a Jefferson County library card in good standing*. The applicant must serve as the group contact and attend all meetings for which they make reservations. Good Standing means the library card is up to date and has no more than five dollars ($5.00) in fines.*
- An applicant must be at least 21 years old to reserve the room.
- Groups meeting with anyone under 21 years old must have an adult sponsor (21 years or older) in attendance at the meeting.
- Groups with attendees 12 years and under are required to have one sponsor per 5 individuals under 12 years of age. Groups with attendees 13-20 years must have an adult sponsor for every 10 attendees in that age range.
- Permission must be given by the Library Director to reserve the room more than once a week or once a week for more than one month.
- Online applications for groups reserving the room must be completely filled out and approved by library staff for the reservation to be added to the Community Room calendar.
- The applicant accepts financial responsibility for any damage beyond normal usage of the room. The public liability insurance coverage of the Library does not cover the negligence of the users nor will it protect the users if a suit is brought against them.
- Refunds and Cancellations
 - Cancellation notices must be provided to the Library at least 48 hours before the scheduled meeting time. If you cancel your meeting within this time, a full refund will be given (excluding the cleaning fee). Refunds will be held at the library services desk for 30 days after the cancellation. Cancellations occurring less than 48 hours before the scheduled meeting time will not receive a refund. Cancellations for all meetings can be made to the Library in person, in writing, by phone (205-951-1415) or via email (librarian@irondalelibrary.org). All groups with a recurring reservation who fail to meet the 48 hour cancellation notice requirement for two consecutive meeting dates will have their other meeting times automatically cancelled.
 - If the library is closed due to unforeseen circumstances when the event is scheduled, then Library staff will contact you to reschedule your meeting or refund your full rental fee.
- Care and Use of Community Room
 - The following items are prohibited in the Community Room: tobacco and vape products, alcoholic beverages, and open flames.
 - Signs, decorations, and other objects should not be taped or attached to walls, doors or equipment in any manner. Use of paints, dyes, markers or other materials that might cause permanent damage to the room or furnishings is prohibited.

- The Community Room can hold up to 75 people with tables and chairs. There are 100 chairs and 32 tables available for use.
 - Setting up and breaking down the room with tables and chairs must be done by the group. No Library staff is available to assist. The room should be left as it was found with any chairs and tables that were in the storage room returned to the storage room.
 - Seating may NOT exceed room capacity.
- Only light refreshments may be served. No catered meals or meal preparation are permitted. Warming trays, crockpots or other units with heating elements are prohibited.
- The serving kitchen has a refrigerator, sink, small coffee pot and microwave that may be used. All supplies and other items found in the cabinets or refrigerator belong to the Library and are not available for use. The Library does not provide supplies. The coffee pot must be unplugged before leaving.
- No equipment or furniture should be removed from the Community Room.
- The rooms should be left in a clean and orderly condition.
- General Rules and Regulations
 - Programs may not be disruptive to the Library or its mission. Providing Community Room space is only one of the services provided by the Library.
 - The Library reserves the right to ask a group to leave the premises if the behavior of the group is deemed disruptive or inappropriate according to Library policies.
 - Library staff will not accept calls or relay messages to people attending meetings except in case of an emergency.
 - The Library does not endorse the views of groups using the room. The Library does not sponsor/support the various groups using the room, and publicity announcing meetings should in no way imply Library sponsorship. The Library name, address and phone number is not to be used in advertising except as the location of the event. Do not use the Library as a mailing address or phone number for information. A copy of advertisements for a meeting must be submitted to the Library Director for approval before publishing.
 - Only service animals as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act may be brought in the building.
 - The Community Room may not be used for social gatherings, parties, banquets, wedding receptions, baby showers, etc.

- Library audio visual equipment may be reserved for use in the room and only after someone in the group is trained to use the equipment by a Library staff member. Training appointments are offered Monday to Friday by calling the Library. No equipment or furniture may be removed from the Community Room, AV storage room, serving kitchen, or Library. Equipment not owned by the Library must be approved by the Library Director before being brought into the room.
- Children must be supervised at all times. The Library is not responsible for children left unattended in the Library while their parent or guardian is in the Community Room (See Unattended Child Policy).
- Groups using the room may not charge admission or request donations for attendance or participation.
- Groups using the room may not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age or disabled status in the provision of services.
- Groups who misrepresent the nature of their meeting may no longer be able to book any Library spaces.
- The Library is not responsible for lost or stolen items in or left in the Community Room.

Use of the Community Room and adjacent serving kitchen is subject to the rules and regulations established by the Irondale Public Library Board of Trustees. The Board has developed these policies to serve the best interests of all the community. The Board reserves the right to alter these regulations without prior notice.

Failure to follow the above policies, or other applicable Library policies, may result in a temporary or permanent suspension of access to the Library meeting spaces.
